

Beaumont Studio

Project

The Beaumont Studio is a beautiful extension of Beaumont Tiles created for commercial and high end projects, from which clients can handpick tiles, stone and bathroom ware. Designed to be a work hub for architects, designers, high end builders and retail clients, the space has been built to appeal to this discerning target market.

Formula delivered a complete store fit-out and back of house, working in a variety of volumes and scaled spaces within the tenancy. The unique configuration of the space required Formula to work hand-in-hand with a design driven client on an interior fabric that offered the challenges of a range of different floor levels, varied ceiling heights and constructed pathways of travel, within which the contractor had to deliver this innovative interior design.

The outcome features custom built joinery, exposed ceiling spaces, fabricated "skeleton" steel framed volumes – all key parts of a highly detailed, quality retail fit out brief from the client and their design team.
